REVIVING HERITAGE, EMPOWERING COMMUNITIES: MUAY KORAT AS A CATALYST FOR GLOCAL SOCIAL INNOVATION'

Dr. Mullika Sungsanit (Suranaree University of Technology)

CONTEXT & CHALLENGE

- Korat's Muay KORAT: a living martial arts lineage facing fragmentation and ageing custodians.
- Weak pathways to youth engagement and markets limited cultural and economic value.
- Aim: convert safeguarding into regional value chains while protecting authenticity, equity and safety.

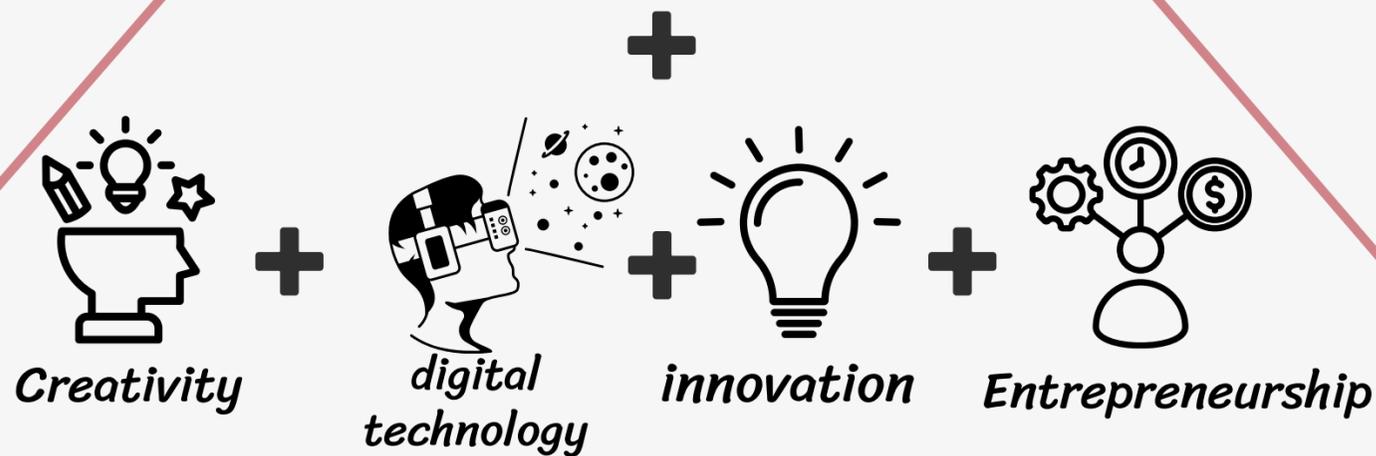

We believe that . . .

Developing a cultural network and ecosystem that combines creativity, digital technology, innovation, and entrepreneurship will enable Muay Korat to become a national soft power and foster local awareness.

Cultural Asset: Muay Korat

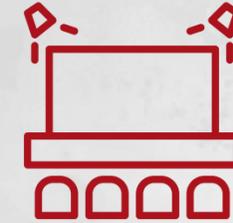

DESIGN PRINCIPLE

THE UNIVERSITY SERVES AS AN ORCHESTRATOR ACROSS SECTORS.

CULTURAL SPACES TRANSLATE VISIBILITY INTO PARTNERSHIPS AND INCOME.

YOUTH-FACING FORMATS CREATE DEMAND AND RELEVANCE.

INFRASTRUCTURE-FIRST REDUCES COORDINATION COSTS.

“From Living Heritage to Living Incomes”

Learn → Perform → Thrive.

4

Showcase & Institutionalization

Purpose: Move from ad-hoc showcases to recognized, recurring institutions.

- Signature performances
Large-scale demonstrations (e.g., mass Wai Kru / choreography), public stages, and competitions.
- Recognition mechanisms
Standards, juried awards, certification, documentation, and broadcast to build legitimacy year on year.

5

Emergent system

Purpose: Shift from scattered, one-off activities to a living cultural innovation ecosystem where all actors connect and co-invest.

Impacts

- Economic
 - Teachers and culture carriers earn more; local income grows through events, services, and visitor spending.
- Social
 - Youth gain discipline, pride, health, and life skills; families and communities reconnect through shared practice.
- Network
 - Stronger partnerships among schools, communities, universities, creative sectors, tourism, and private sponsors.

Re-creation & Diversification

Purpose: Turn culture into contemporary products, services, and skills.

- Cultural innovation skills.
Reimagine heritage into modern formats (games, food & beverage, crafts, media, wellness).
- New entrepreneurs
Run MuayKorat GameHack and Business Model Canvas workshops so youth and community members can design viable ventures.

Capacity & Education

Purpose: Put “people development” at the heart of the

- Cultural elevation movement.
 - Showcase 16 masters/lineages to build pride and public trust.
- Curriculum uptake
 - Integrate Muay Korat learning activities into schools (e.g., 253 classrooms in the pilot to foster “youth as culture carriers”).
- Teaching tools
 - Develop the “Muay Korat Curriculum & Practice Guide” for teachers; run practical trainings so schools can implement for real—not just as exhibitions.

1

Build Foundations & Coalition

Purpose: Create a strong base of knowledge and community engagement.

Knowledge creation & curation

Document Muay Korat’s history, techniques, and cultural value in accessible formats.

Community working groups

Form 12 multi-stakeholder teams (masters, teachers, youth, cultural groups, local government, private sector) to co-design activities and collect baseline data.

Early result: A shared evidence base and active local ownership.

Early result: Confident teachers and students; a living classroom pipeline.

Cultural Leader

3
